Introduction

Hazrat Muhammad PBUH is the final Prophet of Allah and the greatest human being to ever walk the earth. He was sent as a mercy to all of creation, bringing the message of Islam to guide humanity from darkness to light. His life, character, and teachings are perfect examples for all Muslims to follow until the Day of Judgment. Born in Makkah over 1400 years ago, he transformed not just Arabia but the entire world through the divine message he delivered. Muslims around the globe love him more than their own lives and send blessings upon him daily.

Early Life and Character

The Prophet PBUH was born on the 12th of Rabi ul Awwal in the year 570 CE in Makkah, a city in Arabia. He belonged to the noble Quraish tribe and the family of Banu Hashim. His father, Abdullah, died before his birth, and his mother, Amina, passed away when he was only six years old. His grandfather, Abdul Muttalib, cared for him until his death, after which his uncle, Abu Talib, raised him. Despite being an orphan, he grew up with exceptional qualities. From his youth, he was known for his honesty, truthfulness, and reliability. People trusted him completely and gave him the titles Al Amin, meaning the trustworthy, and Al Sadiq, meaning the truthful. He worked as a shepherd and later in trade, always conducting business with complete integrity. At the age of 25, he married Hazrat Khadija, a respected businesswoman who became his greatest supporter. He lived a simple and humble life, often meditating in the cave of Hira, away from the idol worship and corruption of Makkan society.

Prophethood and Message

At the age of 40, while meditating in the cave of Hira during Ramadan, Angel Jibreel appeared to him with the first revelation from Allah. The words Iqra, meaning read or recite, marked the beginning of his prophethood. Initially, he preached quietly to close family and friends. Hazrat Khadija, Hazrat Ali, Hazrat Abu Bakr, and Hazrat Zaid were among the first believers. Gradually, he began calling all people to Islam publicly. His message was simple yet revolutionary. He taught that there is only one Allah who deserves worship, that idol worship is wrong, and that all humans are equal before Allah. He emphasized honesty, justice, kindness, and caring for the poor and orphans. The leaders of Makkah, who profited from idol worship and tribal superiority, opposed him violently. They tortured early Muslims and tried to harm the Prophet PBUH himself, but he remained patient and continued his mission with unwavering determination.

Migration and Establishment of Islamic State

After 13 years of preaching in Makkah and facing severe persecution, Allah commanded the Prophet PBUH to migrate to Madinah in 622 CE. This migration, known as the Hijrah, marks the beginning of the Islamic calendar. In Madinah, he was welcomed by the Ansar, the helpers, and established the first Islamic state based on justice, equality, and the rule of law. He created brotherhood between the Muhajireen who migrated from Makkah and the Ansar of Madinah. The Constitution of Madinah he drafted is considered one of the earliest examples of a written constitution protecting the rights of all citizens regardless of religion.

Perfect Character and Legacy

The Prophet PBUH was perfect in every aspect of life. He was the best husband, father, friend, leader, and teacher. He was kind to children, respectful to women, merciful even to enemies, and compassionate to animals. He lived simply despite having authority, often going hungry while feeding others. He forgave those who persecuted him and treated everyone with dignity. His wife Hazrat Ayesha said his character was the Quran itself.

Conclusion

The Prophet Muhammad PBUH passed away on the 12th of Rabi ul Awwal in 632 CE at the age of 63. He left behind the Quran, the word of Allah, and his Sunnah, his teachings and practices, as eternal guidance. His life transformed humanity, establishing Islam as a complete way of life. For Muslims worldwide, he remains the most beloved person, and following his example is the path to success in this life and the Hereafter. May Allah send countless blessings and peace upon him.
